President's Letter

It's show time! Well, almost show time. The "drop-off days" for our Annual Spring Art Show are rapidly approaching. They are March 31 and April 1. This is the first show over which I will have the honor of presiding.

Co-chairs Jeanne Sirko and Sue Masley have lined up an outstanding judge for the show.

She is Dr. Sarah Tambucci, former president of the National Art Education Association and the Pennsylvania Art Education Association. Dr. Tambucci is currently Director of the Arts Education Collaborative at the Regional Enterprise Tower, Pittsburgh.

Please remember to bring "finger foods" for the opening on April 9. Also remember to pass the word about our opening. Invite friends and relatives and, if you are a "super E" type personality, invite strangers, too. I would like this to be the best opening we have ever had.

Many of you have received our new member directories at last month's meeting. See Jane Cerilli to pay your dues and receive your copy of the directory.

With only a couple of months left in our calendar, I would like to ask the membership for ideas for next year.

What would you like to see demonstrated or what would you like to change? Put on your thinking caps and come up with ideas for programs, Christmas Party and field trips. I can pass them on to the next board and perhaps they will be incorporated into our schedule.

Keep on creatin'.

Sue

Member News Notes . . .

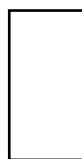

BVA President Sue Ireton's pen-and-ink drawing appears on the cover of this year's Beaver County Government Directory, issued this month by the Beaver County Bureau of Elections. Taken from a photograph of the Beaver River, the drawing portrays the river at its most colorful moment as autumn trees stretch yellow boughs to its banks. Copies of the booklet are available at the Elections Bureau office in the Beaver County Court House.

Other News Notes . . .

BVA Vice-President Dave Bentley is taking a 12-week online course on web site development to further his career in photography. How does that work? He'll be able to build his own web site to display and sell his photographs to customers around the world. The course is offered by Community College of Beaver County.

BVA Member Elizabeth Douglas was interviewed by KDKA-TV newsman Dave Crawley on his "KD Country" program for her part in the Art for August Wilson exhibition that ran in February at the Cultural Trust Gallery in Pittsburgh. The interview was aired Feb. 17.
